Rotarians Report Peace Park Meeting

The local Rotarians met Monday in the new dining room of the Sugar Bowl in their regular meeting, and expressed delight at the surroundings and the seclusion of the large and spacious room for the meetings. Because of so many holidaying the attendance was small.

In the absence of the President, Heber F. Allen, the Vice-President Warren L. Jones had charge of the meeting. After the fine meal served by "Milt" and his helpers, community singing was enjoyed, and then some of the members who had attended the International Peace Park meeting at Waterton on the Saturday night, reported on the meeting. Ten attended from here, and those reporting were: Lee Brewerton, Milt Wolsey, N. W. Peterson and S. I. May. All reported a most enjoyable and profitable meeting, and amongst the highlights of the comments by the speakers were these:

Canon Middleton was Chairman of the meeting, and Pres. Edw. J. Wood of the Cardston Club welcomed the visitors from across the U. S. border as well as from the Alberta Clubs. A Club roll call was conducted by Jos. Low of the Cardston Club and L. J. Humphrey of the Great Falls Club responded to the welcome.

Hon. Harry B. Mitchell expressed his pleasure at seeing the Peace Park formed and said he hoped to see the day when there would be no barriers of trade or exchange between our two great nations and assured his listeners especially Canadians, that the government of the United States was determined to lend all possible aid in democracy's fight against Hitlerism and all it stands for.

Tom J. Davis, making his first appearance outside the United States as President of Rotary International, voiced his pleasure at seeing the fruits of the joint Peace Park plan launched by Rotarians of these two great nations ten years ago. He spoke of what Rotary and Rotarians might do, individually and as an organization, to prepare the world for a lasting and permanent peace when the present holocaust is over. We must fight as men if we must, as Rotarians always, to stamp out hate, greed and evil thinking from the minds of men. He praised the work of Jim Davidson of Calgary, Leighton Ralston, Minister of Defence at Ottawa, and other Canadians who had assisted in carrying the message of Rotary to so many lands, and said that today fifteen countries were dead because of wishful and evil thinking of three men. Where free thinking and democracy is eliminated, Rotary cannot survive. If democracy survives it will require more than the building of a steel wall for protection, we must build within ourselves a desire to give and to serve, and we must build an appreciation of our freedom and heritage. He rehearsed the success of Hitler to date, and said that England had furnished him his first setback, and that in his plan he expected to conquer the United States from within by subversive elements. This effort, he said, was the speaker's, we must drive out of our minds that idea of Rotary on the Peace Park.

Bank of Montreal Crop Report

General — Excessive heat, with below-average precipitation, has caused a further decline in crop conditions in the Prairie Provinces. In Manitoba, southeast Saskatchewan, south west Alberta, the Peace River country & scattered isolated districts, prospects continue favourable, but elsewhere immediate and copious rains are required to prevent further decline and in some districts failure. In some districts of Saskatchewan and Alberta, a feed shortage is feared. There have been some local hail losses in southern Saskatchewan and central Alberta. A sawfly infestation is reported in southern sections of Alberta and Saskatchewan and the damage may be considerable. Sugar beets in Alberta and Manitoba are progressing satisfactorily. In Quebec Province, heavy rains during the past week have proved beneficial and crops generally have made rapid progress. There is now sufficient moisture in nearly all sections, and the outlook is favourable. In Ontario further heavy rains have greatly improved the outlook for late field crops, pastures and second-growth clover. A fairly satisfactory fall wheat crop is being harvested. In the Maritime Provinces, crops continue to make satisfactory progress and average yields are generally indicated. There is ample moisture and warm, dry weather would now be beneficial. In British Columbia, excessively hot, dry weather throughout the province has adversely affected crops. Tree fruits are maturing rapidly, with indicated yield of apples 70 percent average, peaches and plums 100 percent and apricots 110 percent. Vegetable crops are making good progress, with average yields indicated.

PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Alberta — High temperatures and inadequate moisture during the past week have caused serious crop deterioration. Prospects continue good in the Peace River and the southwest, but rain is required for filling. Elsewhere, conditions vary from fair to bad, with grains maturing prematurely; rain is urgently needed particularly in the central and eastern areas. Some sawfly damage is reported in the southeastern area. The feed situation is only fair. Saskatchewan — Severe heat, without general compensating rains, has further impaired conditions over wide areas and the entire Province requires rain to promote filling. In the southeast, extreme northeast & isolated districts in the central section, prospects remain favourable, but elsewhere they are poor. Grain is maturing too rapidly, and there is some danger of a feed shortage. There has been some local hail damage, and sawfly infestation is reported in the south.

Manitoba — Scattered showers in most districts have offset the effects of heat, and prospects for a better-than-average crop have been well maintained, but additional moisture is now required in the northern section. Wheat is filling well and coarse grains are progressing rapidly. Fall rice is being cut. Sugar beets

"Bud" Love Passes --- Injuries Prove Fatal

Fatally injured in a car tip over just at the west edge of the town on Sunday evening Andrew "Bud" Love, aged 56, succumbed to injuries in the St. Michael's Hospital shortly after 6 a.m. Wednesday morning, never regaining full consciousness following the accident.

With Lloyd Dahl, driver of the light Ford runabout, the two had been driving about the town during the afternoon and had been out to Dahl's farm about one mile south of town. Returning, just after seven p.m., they approached the corner at Mayor P. W. Cope's farm just on the outskirts of town, and when they attempted the turn into town, the car went out of control, and turned over once and a half, demolishing the fabric top & bows smashing one wheel, and coming to rest on its side with the injured man pinned underneath the running board.

Mayor Cope, who was at his place was the first on the scene, running over immediately after the tip over, and assisting to remove both men from the wreckage. He rendered first aid, and "Bud" was sent at once to Lethbridge, suffering concussion and hemorrhage of the brain and internal injuries. Lloyd Dahl suffered some broken ribs and a small cut and bruise on the side of his head, but after first aid treatment, he was able to go home, and aside from the shaking up and the soreness he feels little the worse physically for his experience.

Little hope was held out for "Bud" Love from the very beginning, and his two sisters Mrs. Bonnie Nalder and Mrs. L. L. Palmer were at the bedside constantly. All day Tuesday and during that night he continually grew weaker, and passed away Wednesday morning. Funeral services will be held in the 2nd Ward Chapel on Saturday at 1 p.m. with the 2nd Ward Bishopric in charge. We extend our sympathy to the sorrowing relatives in their sad bereavement.

Deceased was born in Nephi Utah, and came to Canada with his parents in 1902 and has resided in Raymond ever since. He was a plumber by trade and in following his profession was known to everyone, and was always liked by those who knew him. He was quiet, unassuming and friendly to all and his cheery greeting will be missed by everyone. He was unmarried.

A Budget Committee consisting of Wm. Wilde, Chairman, Albert Brandley, and John T. Steele, all members of the High Council, were appointed to study the recreation programmes of the various wards and bring in a recommendation for a Budget system in the Stake for all winter entertainments. This will follow the suggestions of the General authorities in Salt Lake City, who are trying to make the budget system Church wide throughout the Church.

Speakers at the meeting were Miss Verna Ackroyd who reported briefly on her mission to Eastern Canada, Elder Barker Selman who had labored in the Tongan Islands and also in the California Mission. Mrs. Clinton Hardy who reported on the Primary Convention and Mrs. Andrew Walton who attended the Mutual Convention, both as delegates from the Tavlor Stake.

Funeral services over the remains of Grafton F. Hovey, who passed away in hospital last week, were held in the Raymond First Ward Church Monday afternoon at 2:30 with 1st Councillor C. R. Wing in charge. The First Ward Choir furnished the singing with Ira McBride conducting and Mrs. Velma Redd at the organ.

AN EASY DECISION

Motor car drivers in Canada are now face to face with the fact that the airmen of the Empire need the gasoline which Canadians are using for pleasure purposes.

For several months past, every loyal Canadian has been nursing the fervent wish that the young flyers from Canada with their brother fighters in the R.A.F. could pay back ten-fold the unspeakable horrors which Nazi airmen have unleashed in the British Isles. Now, finally, the wings of hundreds of Empire planes are casting their shadows over Germany daily. The hour has come when we have the opportunity to shake the morale of Hitler's millions.

But as each new flight of aero planes streak into battle, and as the Empire increases its raiding groups, from a handful of attackers to waves of machines which are counted by the hundreds, fuel for these fighting ships stands out as the stark need of the hour.

From London comes the urgent cry, "Give us all the gasoline you can spare."

Canada cannot turn over all her gasoline. That product is vital in our huge production of war material. We need large quantities for the hundreds of air training ships across the country, for the navy and the convoys which touch our shores, for the transportation of war goods. But there is one way in which we can supply more and more gasoline for the fighters—by refusing to use up gasoline unnecessarily in private motor cars.

Millions upon millions of gallons of gasoline are spent every year in private motor cars for purposes which may be considered unnecessary in the light of the drastic need across the Atlantic.

If our fighting forces are to get any help at all from Canada in so far as gasoline is concerned, fuel experts declare, then owners of private motor cars must reduce their consumption of gasoline by at least 50 per cent.

Armed with this knowledge, who of us is going to refuse to cooperate?

The decision is an easy one.

Because of the recent M.I.A. Convention, the summer holiday of the Sunday School Board and the Primary meeting in the 2nd Ward, the attendance at Priesthood meeting on Sunday was rather small.

PAY THE PREMIUM

Apart from the natural beauties that are an ever present lure and attraction to tourists in Canada, the premium on United States dollars is the greatest possible aid to promotion of traffic from that country. In terms of dollars, it provides a bonus of ten percent. One enterprising group has pictured it as "one day free in ten." To others, it is a pleasing novelty.

For any one of these conceptions to be effective, the premium must be paid by the Canadians catering to the tour. It is not only a national service to pay the premium, paramount in wartime, but it is the law as well. It is an offence, punishable by severe penalties, to accept United States currency at anything other than the official rate.

Because Canada is in urgent need of United States dollars to buy aeroplanes and other vital war equipment in the U. S. A., this American currency should be turned in to the banks without undue delay. It is an offence to hold it for more than a reasonable period of a few days after it has been received.

No Canadian loses by payment of the premium. Merchants, hotelkeepers and others pay the current premium of ten percent and the banks pay out a like premium in receiving the American currency. The premium is ten percent, whether it be for U. S. paper currency, bank

HITLER AS CRUSADER

Of all the roles that Hitler has chosen to play, for the sole purpose of getting what he wants from a credulous world, none is more fantastic than this present role of White Knight leading the civilized people of Europe on a holy crusade against Bolshevism. The stage is being set for this spectacle by diligent Nazi propaganda. France, Spain and other nations are being invited, or commanded, to send token forces to this "holy war". Hitler, the erstwhile pal of Stalin, is being clothed with gleaming armor, and heralded, with loud blasts from Goebbels's trumpet, as the savior of mankind from the dark forces of communist destruction.

The fraudulence of this whole manoeuvre can be demonstrated by two simple tests. In the first place, let any American who is now tempted to regard Hitler as a crusader against Bolshevism ask himself who invited Bolshevism into Central Europe. Who made the pact of August, 1939? Who conspired with Stalin to destroy Poland, the best bulwark against a western spread of Russian influence? Who, if not Hitler

And in the second place, still cheques, travellers' cheques or silver. It is a national service and a patriotic duty. PAY THE TOURIST HIS PREMIUM.

more important, let the same American ask himself what real difference there is, anyway, between the Bolshevik system of Stalin and the National Socialist system of Hitler. Both are demonstrated enemies of established religion. Both demand worship of the state, headed by a supreme "Leader" who becomes essentially a god. Both permit not the slightest deviation from a party "line", under threat of excommunication or extermination. Both suppress minority opinion by such methods as star-chamber trials, torture, concentration camps and secret murder. Both treat human rights as non-existent and make human beings the mere slaves of an all-powerful and self-perpetuating oligarchy. What difference can it make to the churchman or the business man or the workman or the farmer whether he is ruled by Bolshevism or by National Socialism? What vital difference, from our point of view, exists between the two at bottom: except that the one (German) is in much better position at this moment than the other (Russian) to attack Britain and break down the defenses of our Western World?

The purpose of this flood of Goebbels-created propaganda, picturing Hitler as the White Knight of Christendom, is plain enough. This purpose is to divide our counsels and to paralyze our will. We ought not let our selves be fooled at so critical a moment by a strategy so obvious. This is the time to give our ships the protection of our Navy and to throw into the Western Front, on Britain's side, every plane that we can spare.

MOUNT EDITH CAVELL

A MOUNTAIN MEMORIAL TO A HEROIC WOMAN

There are many monuments to the memory of the heroes & heroines who gave their lives for the cause of freedom and democracy in the first world war but the majestic shrine which has been named after nurse Edith Cavell is perhaps the most inspiring of them all. Beautiful Mount Edith Cavell in Jasper National Park will keep alive the memory of that courageous woman as long as the heroic exploits of the men and women who thwarted the German bid for world domination a quarter of a century ago are recalled.

The story of nurse Edith Cavell is known to almost every school boy and girl in the English and French speaking world. In the grey dawn of an October morning in 1915 this kindly woman was taken from her prison cell to face a German firing squad. Her "crime" had been that although she was living in enemy-occupied country, she remained loyal to her own people and concealed a number of British soldiers who were being pursued by the German "gestapo" of that day. There are many nurse Cavells in the present conflict who will draw courage and inspiration from the example set by one of their number who put the interest of her country before her own personal safety although she must have known full well the price which German ruthlessness would exact for her patriotism.

Mount Edith Cavell is one of the most remarkable peaks in the Canadian Rockies. It occupies an almost isolated position and is clearly visible from points 20 miles distant. The peak rises to a height of over 11,000 feet and is perpetually hooded with a white mantle of snow. Appropriately, too, the side of this magnificent monolith is hung with a gleaming white glacier which gives the impression of a great white angel with outstretched wings keeping peaceful vigil over the valley below. This symbolic figure on the mountain memorial has been named 'Angel Glacier' and was visited by the King & Queen during their visit to Canada in 1939.

Mount Edith Cavell has many moods and to know it one must see it at all hours of the day and under different weather conditions. On grey days its appearance may suggest to many a sorrowing mood but on sunny days its snowy cap and sparkling raiment gleams with celestial purity against the clear blue sky. In the moonlight it is indescribably beautiful suggesting a peace and tranquillity of spirit that recall the last words of Edith Cavell just before her execution "There must be no bitterness nor hatred towards anyone."

Mount Edith Cavell lies approximately 12½ miles south of the Town of Jasper in Alberta and is accessible by a first class motor road. This year it is receiving an ever increasing number of visitors including many from various parts of the United States.

Miss Katherine Paxman who has been employed in Magrath for the past three weeks returned home Sunday after having completed her work.

WEEKLY LETTER

WINTER WHEAT

In the early years of wheat growing in Southern Alberta winter wheat was a very important crop. This was due largely to the fact that varieties of spring wheat grown at that time were late in ripening. About 1911 losses were quite severe from a cause that to be eel worm damage, and this tended to discourage farmers from growing winter wheat. Since that time the acreage devoted to it has been greatly reduced. From observations in recent years it is now apparent that root rot was the cause of the original trouble. Experience has shown that this damage from root rot can be avoided to a great extent by not seeding too early in the fall. Results obtained at the Lethbridge Experimental Station indicate that as near the first of September as possible is the best time for seeding this crop.

Winter wheat has been grown at the Lethbridge Station ever since it was established in 1907. In comparing the results obtained with winter wheat over a period of years, it is found that the average yield of winter wheat over a twenty-five year period has been 26.2 bushels per acre, as compared with a yield of 25.0 bushels per acre for spring wheat. Both crops were sown on summer-fallow land in all seasons. There was only one year in this period when winter wheat was considered a total failure. In that season the plot was sown to spring wheat and the yield of spring wheat is included in this average.

For the past fifteen years a test plot has been conducted in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture to determine the winter hardiness of winter wheat varieties. About twenty varieties have been sown annually, and the results have shown that the Kharkov variety or selections from it, have been the most satisfactory from this standpoint. Winter killing is much less liable to occur when the crop is sown in stubble, but when sown on summer-fallow the yield is naturally considerably higher provided the winter has not proved sufficiently severe to cause much damage.

Experiments on rates of seedling have shown that one bushel per acre is the best rate for seeding on dry land, and it should be remembered that it is just as important to treat winter wheat for smut as it is to treat spring wheat. As mentioned above, sowing should be done as near the first week in September as possible for best results.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE NOTES

WHEN TO HARVEST FORAGE CROPS FOR SEED

Each year losses occur in the harvesting of forage crop seeds because of failure to cut at the proper time. Although experience is necessary to determine the correct time to harvest forage crop for seed, a few suggestions may prove helpful in overcoming serious losses.

The various crops differ widely in their ability to hold seed after reaching maturity, some shattering readily when ripe, while others may be left standing for some time beyond the proper date of cutting without much loss.

Of the two general types of forage crops, grasses and legumes, the former is more subject to shattering than the latter. Therefore, greater care is required in determining the time to harvest most grasses.

Crested Wheat Grass drops its seeds quite readily after maturity is reached and must be harvested before it is dead ripe if losses are to be avoided. Cutting should be done when the heads are mostly brown but still showing a greenish tinge. If the seeds are pressed from it, have been the most satisfactory from this stand-

Brome resists shattering to a greater degree than Crested Wheat Grass. Harvesting should begin when the stem has turned brown one or two inches down from the head.

Timothy is a grass that shatters quite readily when mature and therefore, should be cut before it is dead ripe. It is considered ready to cut when the seeds are in the firm dough stage.

Western Rye grass should be cut before it is completely ripe and when the heads are still showing a greenish coloration.

As previously mentioned, legumes do not shatter as readily as the grasses. Alfalfa is considered ready for cutting when about three-quarters of the pods have turned dark brown. Alsatwede and Alsike can be harvested when the heads have turned dark brown. Sweet clover presents a more difficult problem with respect to time of cutting as ripe seeds and flowers may be found on the same plant. A time must therefore be chosen when about one half of the seed pods have turned dark brown.

CONTROL OF ANTS

Ants are bothersome insects to the owners of lawns in this province. The earth excavated in tunnelling renders lawns uneven and their presence around buildings is most annoying. The entrance to the nest must first be located to effect control as destruction of ants elsewhere is of little avail.

The use of gas is recommended. Carbon bisulphide is best. It is a liquid which turns to gas when poured on the ground.

Push a stick into the centre of the nest about 4 inches and rotate it until a 2 inch hole is made. Pour 1 tablespoonful of carbon bisulphide into the hole, then plug it with damp earth. The gas will work downward into the nest and exterminate the ants. Be very careful of the carbon bisulphide and do not spill it on the grass.

When ants invade the dwelling, a little sodium fluoride sprinkled on the floor they cross will destroy them.

Remember the substances mentioned are poisonous and must be treated with great care.

JAW BONES FROM RIBS
BRITISH SURGEON'S FEATS
AFTER AIR RAIDS

New noses, new cheek bones, new jaws, built up for the most part from the owner's ribs are among the achievements of plastic surgeons in Britain's hospitals today.

Although the heaviest air "blitz" kills or maims only a fraction of the total estimated before the Luftwaffe came, the proportion receiving facial injuries is high. Thirty years ago many of these mutilations would have been beyond remedy. Today the plastic surgeon can virtually restore most of the features to normality.

He will graft, as much as a hundred square inches of skin from one part of the patient's body to another. A section of rib, six inches long, becomes a jawbone. A woman smiling to greet friends does so thanks to the section of sciatic nerve that keeps normal a face that would have been permanently twisted by deep glass wounds.

Every week the surgeons of Britain are slowly and successfully rebuilding these features damaged by splinters and fragments of flying glass, wood and steel.

SOYBEANS

The production of soybeans has increased at a remarkable rate in the United States during the past few years, the acreage there being 4,961,000 in 1940, yielding 80 million bushels of beans. The present market price in the United States is around $1.30 a bushel and the government has virtually guaranteed a minimum price of $1.00 a bushel.

There has been some soybeans planting on a small scale in Western Canada for several years. In Alberta soybeans have been grown mostly in the irrigated districts. The biggest question is that the growing season is rather short for the beans, but new varieties that have been developed have early-ripening tendencies. It is claimed that they will mature in from 108 to 110 days. Included in these varieties are: Manitoba Brown, Pagoda, Mandarin and Capott.

Soybeans came out of China, and principally Manchuria, where the soybean acreage is larger than any other crop. They are valuable as food, being high in protein, for their heavy oil yielding, and for their usefulness in the manufacture of plastics.

PROSPECTIVE HEAVY
ALBERTA BONUS

Some 62,400 Alberta farmers have made application for the Federal Government wheat acreage reduction bonus, which reach the figure of $11 million in this province. This information was disclosed by E. L. Gray director of the bonus scheme for the prairie provinces.

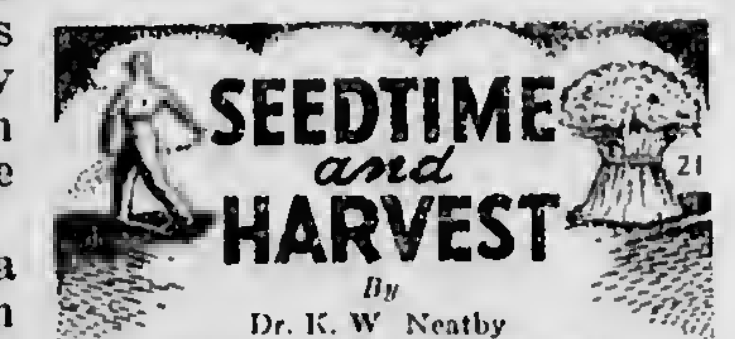

Farmers to obtain their bonuses should go to their municipal secretaries and complete their final form claims. A sworn statement of seeded acreage is required. Unless complications arise, bonus cheques should be out to the farmer, within 70 days after the final claim has been completed.

Mr. Gray said there is no cut off date in respect to farmers making out the final claims forms. If desired a farmer could let this stand over until fall.

Contrary to earlier statements, bonus claims must be based on actual seeding and can not be switched to something else if the seeded acreage is droughted out or hailed out and latterly summer-fallow.

Using Soil Scientists
Some time ago, in this column, I suggested that the necessity of reducing wheat production provided an opportunity to encourage the adoption of soil conserving practices. This opportunity was missed largely because we allowed the bulk of our grass and clover seed to be exported.

What about 1942? Perhaps we may be able to forget all about acreage reduction; but, if not, surely an effort should be made to see that the reduction is made in the interests of better farming. In northern wooded areas, yield and quality of wheat can be increased by the use of legumes plus artificial fertilizers. Grass could be used in the rotation with advantage to the wheat grower in many parts of the plains.

These problems differ greatly from one soil zone to another. In outlining an agricultural policy for 1942, all available technical information should be used. These ideas were embodied in a resolution introduced to the regional meeting of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists at Brandon, by the Agricultural Director of The North-West Line Elevators Association, and seconded by the President of the Manitoba Wheat Pool. It is certain that soil scientists, agronomists (a polite name for field husbandmen) and economists could offer much helpful advice, and so, also could many farmers. The resolution called for the appointment of a committee of such persons with special training, and this can surely be endorsed by all of us.

Farmers who have not previously sown grass or clover seed should consult the nearest experimental farm or district agriculturist.

We can grow more wheat and better wheat on fewer acres, if we follow the examples of our best farmers.

Miss Ila Hicks has been attached to the Canadian legation in Washington, and has either left home and went to unhook the trailer, there was no trailer. They turned back on the road and found it near the Paul Redd farm, not much the worse for having come unhooked, but in a position in the ditch where it required three hours of hard labor to get it back on the road. Theodore laughed as he told of the experience but he said it was no laughing matter to get in Calgary and says he enjoys it righted and on the road as his work in this line very much gain.
